THE "LONG AGO."

The following we find floating like a winddriven waif upon the great sea of American newspapers, without name or index of ownership, and is certainly one of the most beautiful things we have ever seen. It is, indeed, almost matchless in beauty. Who can be the author of it? Does anybody know?—Balt. Patriot.

It was written by Benjamin F. Taylor, of the Chicago Journal.—Cincinnati Commercial.
Oh! a wonderful stream is the river Time,
As it runs through the realms of tears,
With a faultless rhythm and a musical rhyme,
And a broadening sweep, and a surge sublime, That blends with the ocean of years.

How the winters are drifting like flakes of snow, And the summers like buds between,
And the year is the sheaf; so they come and they go On the river's breast, with its ebb and flow, As it glides through the shadow and sheen.
There's a musical tale on the river of Time, Where the softest of airs are playing;
There's a cloudless sky and tropical climate,
And a song as sweet as a vesper chime,
And the June with the roses are staying.

And the name of this tale is the Long Ago,
And we bury our treasures there;
There are brows of beauty and bosoms of snow;
There are haunts of dust, but we love them so;
There are trinkets and tresses of hair.

There are fragments of songs that nobody sings,
And a part of an infant's prayer: There's a lute unswept, and a harp without strings,
There are broken vows and pieces of rings,
And the garment that was used to wear.

There are hands that are waved when the fairy shore
By the mirage is lifted in air;
And we sometimes hear through the turbulent roar
Sweet voices we heard in the days gone before,
When the wind down the river is fair.

Oh! remembered for aye be that blessed isle,
All the days of our life till night;
When the evening comes with its beautiful smile,
And our eyes are closed to slumber awhile, May our "greenwood" of soul be in sight!

How HE FOUND THE PLACE.—Not long since, the worthy pastor of one of our city churches, who combines divinity and wit in woof as bright and rich as "cloth of gold," was called upon one evening by a nameless gentleman, and informed that his services would be required at an early hour in the morning for a peculiar and delightful duty, and then took his leave.

Bright and early the reverend gentleman was ready and waiting, when a carriage was driven up by a "sacred" boy, with "freckled" horses, who rang the bell, which was answered by the dominie in propria persona. The following dialogue ensued:

"Boy, 'is a pussen' ere as goes to the cars?"
"No, sir; I am going to a wedding."
The boy's face fell as he said, "Get in, sir."
"But," remarked the clergyman, "do you know where to go to?"

"No, sir."
"Nor do I. Who sent you?"
"Mr. —, sir."
"Well, go and find Mr. —, and inquire where I am required."

Off went the boy with his carriage, and in a short time returned, and the conversation was renewed.

"Have you found out the place?" asked the minister.

"No, sir," the boy replied; "but I've found what street he's on. You better get in, sir; I guess I kin find it."

And in he got. After riding some distance, the carriage was stopped, and the driver got down, opened the door, and with a most sober countenance, said:

"There's a feller courtin' a gal 'ere; you might try the place."

And the dominie did try it, and found the precise place, where his services were needed by two anxious and palpitating hearts, which he quickly bound together in the indissoluble bonds of matrimony. After the services were concluded, the story was told, and a happier, jollier laugh has seldom been heard. "There's a feller courtin' a gal; you might try it."—Bu-falo Republic.

Fort Moultrie, at the mouth of Charleston harbor, is named in honor of General William Moultrie, one of the bravest patriots of the American Revolution, who gained a memorable victory at the fortress over a British squadron, June 28th, 1776. Moultrie was a native of South Carolina, and of Scottish descent. He early espoused the cause of American Independence, and in March, 1776, was ordered to construct a fort on Sullivan Island, at the mouth of Charleston harbor, and was engaged upon the work when the British fleet appeared off the coast. He was advised to abandon the fortress, as General Charles Lee, his superior officer, declared it was no better than "a slaughter-pen." But Moultrie had faith in his own work, and defended the fort with great skill and valor, and drove away the enemy. One British ship was lost, and two others were so riddled as to have almost become wrecks. The loss of the enemy was 222 killed and wounded.
The Americans had eleven killed and twenty-six wounded. The fortress was hardly injured by the fire of the British squadron, and when the battle was over, every gun on the fort, but one, was still in position. The determination and courage of Moultrie in this engagement elicited great praise, and the fort was, by universal assent, named in honor of its skillful builder and gallant defender.

National Republican

VOL. I. WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1860. No. 26.

PROSPECTUS OF THE WEEKLY NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December, 1860.
The undersigned have commenced the publication, in this city, of a weekly newspaper, called the National Republican.
It is printed on a large sheet, 27 by 42 inches, and is furnished at the low prices stated below.
It will contain all the original matter of the daily National Republican, with the exception of local news not interesting to country subscribers.
It will give full reports of the proceedings of Congress, and of the other departments of the National Government.
It will contain all the news of the day, foreign and domestic, markets, &c., &c., as well as an original correspondence from all parts of the country. The miscellaneous department will receive special attention, and, in all respects, the effort will be made to establish the character of the National Republican as a FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

In politics, the paper will be Republican, sustaining the Administration of Mr. Lincoln, but, disclaiming, however, any pretension to be the organ of the President elect.
There is no other Republican paper in the District of Columbia, or in the vicinity of it, and it is believed that recent events have opened to such a paper an important sphere of useful effort. The time has come, when the actual administration of the Government upon Republican principles will explode the misrepresentations which have made those principles so distasteful to the South.

But it is not only here, and in this vicinity, that the projectors of the National Republican hope to make it useful. To the whole country they offer a journal which will discuss national politics from a national standpoint, and which will never be swayed from patriotic duty by any overpowering pressure of local interest.

Payments always in advance.
When a Club of subscribers has been forwarded, additions may be made to it on the same terms. It is not necessary that the subscribers to a Club should receive their papers at the same post office.

Money may be forwarded by mail, at our risk.
Large amounts can be remitted in drafts on Boston, New York, Philadelphia, or Baltimore; smaller amounts in gold, or in notes of solvent banks. Address
L. CLEPHANE & CO.,
National Republican, Washington, D. C.

Those of our exchanges publishing the above conspicuously three times in the inside form of their paper, and forwarding a marked copy to this office, will receive our daily in exchange until the end of the ensuing session of Congress.

LADD, WEBSTER, & CO'S IMPROVED TIGHT-STITCH SEWING MACHINES.

A few of the many reasons why these Sewing Machines are preferred above all others.
1. They are remarkably simple in their construction. A child can operate them, and understand the mechanism.
2. They are the strongest Sewing Machine made. It is almost impossible to break or get them out of order.
3. They are sure in their operation; finishing the work in a uniformly perfect manner.
4. They make a tight lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the work, which cannot be unraveled.
5. They stitch, hem, bind, fell, run, and gather, without basting.
6. They sew equally well the lightest and the heaviest fabrics.
7. They sew over the heaviest seams without changing the tension or breaking the finest thread.
8. They use any No. of Cotton, Thread, or Silk, directly from the spool.
9. They use a straight needle; curved ones are liable to break.
10. The needle has a perpendicular motion.
This is absolutely necessary for heavy work.
11. They have a wheel feed; none others are in constant contact with the work.
12. They run easily and almost noiseless.
13. They are not liable to oil the dress of the operator.
14. They do not require a screw-driver to set the needle.
15. They do not have to be taken apart to oil or clean.
16. They do not form ridges on the under side of the work, nor ravel out, nor are they wasteful of thread, as is the case with all chain-stitch machines.
17. They are capable of doing a greater range of work, and in a more perfect manner, than any other Sewing Machine, as is proved by the result of our challenge for a trial, which has never been accepted.
